

My Doctor Said

"Try Cardui," writes Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I was in a very low state of health, and was not able to be up and tend to my duties. I did try Cardui, and soon began to feel better. I got able to be up and help do my housework. I continued to take the medicine, and now I am able to do my housework and to care for my children, and I feel as though I could never praise Cardui enough for the benefits I have received."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Cardui is successful, because it is made especially for women, and acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That explains the great success which it has had, during the past 50 years, in helping thousands of weak and ailing women back to health and happiness.

If you are a woman, feel tired, dull, and are nervous, cross and irritable, it's because you need a tonic. Why not try Cardui? Cardui builds, strengthens, restores, and acts in every way as a special, tonic remedy for women. Test it for yourself. Your druggist sells Cardui. Ask him.

Three Paris Churches as Store Houses.

Three deserted and abandoned church buildings where in the long ago gathered scores of worshippers to listen to the words of wisdom that fell from the lips of the most renowned preachers of their day, now stand in this city as silent testimonials to the march of progress, and the necessity of more commodious quarters.

The recent unions of the two Presbyterian congregations of Paris, the old home of the First Presbyterian congregation on the corner of Pleasant and Fourth streets, and it has for many months been occupied as a musical instrument storeroom, and as a private music school. The pulpit furniture, benches, and the old bell, which had been in use for sixty-three years, were sent as a donation from the Presbyterians of Paris to Buckhorn, twenty miles from Jackson, and installed in the Presbyterian church there. The old building was erected in 1845, being the fourth building erected here by the First Presbyterian congregation since the establishment of the laity in Paris. It was occupied by the Federal troops as a hospital for a short period during the Civil War. A war claim of $1,700 was recently allowed by the Government.

The old Christian church on the corner of Main and Eighth streets, once the home of the largest and wealthiest church congregation in the city, has been used since the erection of the new building on High street as a convention hall, seed storage warehouse, auction room, bowling alley, skating rink, and more recently as a moving picture theater. A few days ago it passed into the hands of a local commission firm who after remodeling the structure will move into the building. The building was erected in 1858, and was dedicated in June, 1859. The most famous pulpit orators of this powerful religious sect have preached within its walls.

The old Baptist church on the corner of Main and Sixth streets, was erected in 1867-8, and was abandoned a little over a year ago, when a handsome stone and brick building of modern design was erected near the corner of Main and Tenth streets. The old building was sold to a New York firm, who intended replacing it with a modern three story business house, but the matter is still in abeyance.

They stand like lonely sentinels, still guardians of glorious memories of past greatness and as reminders of the old truth that "The old must give way to the new."

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town! A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

SINGING TO CATTLE

Effect of Human Voice Is Soothing, Says Ranchman.

"Chapo" Bedecked Puncher of Olden Days Has Passed With the "Gunman," Declares W. H. Gray, a Texas Veteran.

St. Louis, Mo.—"Singing cattle to sleep at a round-up is not an uncommon occurrence," said W. H. Gray, Civil war veteran, real estate dealer and owner of a cattle ranch seventeen miles west of Amarillo, Tex., to a group of friends on his return recently from the Lone Star state.

"We have a round-up on my ranch about twice a year. The cattle do not see a human being for perhaps months at a time, and as a result are pretty wild," continued Mr. Gray. "The cowboys form a large circle and gradually begin to drive the cattle in. When the different herds are driven into one large circle the work of branding begins."

"A round-up, however, sometimes lasts for two weeks or more, and the task of keeping the cattle together is not an easy one. At night they become restless and if they are allowed to move too much a stampede is likely."

"The method of keeping the cattle quiet was discovered in a unique way several years ago. During one of the round-ups the cattle were more than ordinarily restless. A large force of cowboys were kept guarding the circle despite the fact that they had all helped with the branding during the day. The next day the work was not done half so well because of the loss of sleep from which the men suffered."

"That evening one of the cowboys who had been with us only a few months and who had come from the east rode out and began to circle the cattle. The other men were eating supper, and being lonesome, the easterner began singing a melodious tune. After a few minutes a cow dropped down on her side to sleep, followed by her calf. One by one the others prepared to rest for the night, and within a half hour there was no possibility of a stampede and no need of a heavy guard. The other cowboys finished their supper and, mounting their horses, went out to begin the tedious task of watching the cattle. When they arrived they saw that most of the cattle were lying down, so they withdrew a few yards to watch the animals and their partner, who was still riding around the circle singing."

"When told later on of the feat he had accomplished the cowboy was angry, believing that he was being 'joshed,' but soon he was convinced there was no joke, and now instead of throwing a heavy guard around the cattle one of the men simply rides around for about half an hour and sings and the cattle go to sleep."

"Friends living in eastern states and in England who have never visited a ranch often have asked me about the mode of the cowboys' dress. The fringed 'chaps' are not worn in Texas as a usual thing. The romantic-looking cowboy with the white or black hairy 'chaps,' a long, dangerous-looking dagger and a large caliber revolver stuck in his belt is a thing of the past. He has passed with the gunman. It is against the law in Texas for any one to have any kind of a revolver or concealed weapon on his person, in his belt or in a holster attached to his saddle. It is also contrary to Texas laws to carry a knife more than six inches long. The laws pertaining to the sale of intoxicating liquors also are strict, so that now Texas is just as civilized as any other state."

BLACK CROW IS A BIG RIVER

Tributary of Yukon Found to Be Hundreds of Miles Long—New Outlet to Northern Canada.

Ottawa, Ontario.—A big river has been discovered in Canada. It is new in the sense that no one had any conception of its extent.

The Porcupine river is a tributary of the Yukon. It has a tributary known as the Black Crow. Until a month or so ago no one believed that the Black Crow was more than twenty or thirty miles long. It is now known to be hundreds of miles long.

The discoverers are the surveyors delineating the international boundary in the far north. The last word received from them was that they had traversed three hundred miles of the Black Crow. Access to the Arctic ocean will be rendered much easier from the northern portion of Canadian territory.

Old-Time Consumption Cure.

London.—The publication of the final report of the royal commission on tuberculosis recalls the elaborate "cure" for consumption in the past. There is the French "cure," for instance, which Sterne survived. Sterne was taken ill in Paris and the best medical advice was sought. The verdict was consumption. And the prescription proved worse than the malady. First of all, a cockerel had to be procured to be flayed alive and pounded in a mortar. This executed, the result was boiled together with poppy seeds, and to the broth thus spoiled a crawfish was added. Moreover, it was absolutely necessary that it should be a male crawfish, otherwise the doctor would not guarantee the "cure." And Sterne took his gruel like an Englishman and still lived on!

The October Woman's Home Companion.

The October Woman's Home Companion contains the first chapter of a new serial, "The Poor Lady," by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman. It is a story of modern American life, and is chiefly concerned with two women—one, an ambitious and unscrupulous wife; the other, fine, high minded and womanly.

In the same number a well known financial authority writes an article of interest and importance to every woman. He describes the snares set by dishonest business concerns to catch women investors, and tells many stories of real life illustrating his points.

Other notable articles are: "Experiments in Spending," "The Girlhood of Madame Schumann Heink," "The Moving Picture Show," "Money Making at Home," and "Women Painters of America."

On the practical side the October Companion is of special value. Its great fashion and household departments are unusually full of useful suggestions and entertaining reading.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—it cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—it enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with us.

A Fierce Night Alarm.

is the hoarse, startling cugh of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., [R. R. No. 2] for their four children were greatly subject to the croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you.
